

Victory Bull adds MT24365 Trading Platforms to its offering

The international investment fund Victory Bull announced switching its trading infrastructure to the Market 24365 platform. Traders can now benefit from the multi-asset platform, powerful algorithmic trading capabilities and an ecosystem of services from HND Ventures.

Founded by experienced fund managers, Victory Bull is an independent global company with a broker's team that focuses on differentiated strategies that help to successfully manage investments.

Victory Bull manages $ 120 million in funds, collectively, for institutions, financial advisers and private investors. Broker team members with over 14 years of investments experience, manage $55.7 million in client portfolio.

With Market 24365 now as Trading Platform Software, we are reaching our goals and giving our investors all advantages of Multi Market Platform in real sense.

Now our dealing room can access deep liquidity from multiple sources, apply various algorithms, calculate and share the net asset value (NAV)/asset under management (AUM) together with the management/performance fee, as well as generate reports. The ability to do all this on mobile devices gives us more transparency and flexibility.
